Very little is known of the real man, except that he began leaping from the roof of the mill into the Blackstone River and after that there was no stopping him as he jumped from ships' masts, bridges, and over cataracts, including Niagara Falls. This novel places him at a time of early American expansion to the West, when the Erie Canal first opened, and imagines his life in the mills, his heroic dreams of wealth and fame, his love for a Native American woman, and his inexorable rush to an early and spectacular death.
